PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Good Evening,

I am delighted to welcome you all to our Mother's Day Pink Ribbon Gala. Your presence means a lot to us as we gather together to celebrate the important women in our lives while raising funds for cancer treatment and research.

The past two years have been filled with numerous challenges, but our main goal remains the same - to serve the community. As the President of the Markham Elite Lions Club for the 2022-2023 term, I feel privileged to preside over the renewed hope and enthusiasm.

Our commitment to global causes undertaken by our district and Lions Club International remains steadfast. We focus on five areas of need that present significant challenges to humanity - diabetes, vision, hunger, environment, and childhood cancer. This year, we are raising funds to support the cancer wing at Sunnybrook hospital, particularly the Odette Cancer Centre. It is one of only a few centers in Canada with a highly specialized comprehensive cancer program and the expertise to provide the latest in tailored treatment research and clinical trials. We believe that every little effort counts, and we are individually responsible for making a difference, one step at a time. One act of service, one encouraging word, one gift of generosity is often all it takes to bring hope where it's needed most.

We extend our sincere gratitude to our corporate sponsors, donors, advertisers, and friends who have generously contributed to make this a successful gala. Your ongoing support and partnership are invaluable. Lastly, I want to recognize the efforts of all our members who made this year's gala a success. Your hard work, dedication to community service, and unwavering spirit of Lionism, are what make our club special - one big family with a "Born To Serve" motto.

Thank you for joining us today, and we hope you enjoy the evening together.

With warm regards,

Lion Nina Sethi, President, Markham Elite Lions Club

Our Service

Lions are a global force for good.

Lions Clubs International is the largest service club organization in the world, with more than 1.4 million members in 48,000 clubs serving 200 countries and geographic areas worldwide. Since our founding in 1917, we have been proving that where there's a need, there's a Lion.

Kindness matters to Lions.

Our motto is "We Serve" and Lions put it into action every day. We're caring men and women who come together to be the difference in our communities. We believe we can do so much more together than we can alone.

Lions serve global causes.

Lions around the world are rallying around the five global causes of vision, hunger, the environment, childhood cancer and our new global focus, diabetes. We have set a goal of serving 200 million people a year through these causes and other humanitarian initiatives.

Lions empower young people.

We believe young people are the leaders of tomorrow. And today. Our Leo clubs give young people opportunities to become volunteers and service leaders, developing new skills and a lifelong passion for service. Approximately 180,000 Leos in 7,200 clubs are serving more than 140 countries worldwide.

We also provide valuable local services to youth such as mentoring, health programs and scholarships. Internationally, we empower youth through our Peace Poster Contest, youth camps and exchanges, and the Lions Quest program that has helped provide positive life skills to over 16 million students.

Our Foundation empowers the service of Lions.

We also help our global neighbors through the support of our Foundation, Lions Clubs International Foundation (LCIF). LCIF has awarded more than US$1.1 billion in grants to support Lions' humanitarian projects. In 2020, LCIF donated millions of dollars in emergency grant funds during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, providing critical supplies and equipment to hospitals, medical clinics and emergency management systems, including front-line health care workers and first responders.

Lions are making a world of difference.

Every day, every way, Lions are investing their time, talents and resources in the communities where we live, work and serve. We believe there is no challenge that can't be overcome when we unite for good.

SURVIVING AND THRIVING: A BREAST CANCER JOURNEY

My name is Asha, and I am a breast cancer survivor. I've been through a lot in my life, but nothing has tested my strength and resilience like my battle with breast cancer.

When I first found the lump in my breast, I knew something was wrong. But instead of wallowing in fear, I took action. I went to the doctor, I got a diagnosis, and I faced the disease head-on.

Throughout my journey, I refused to let cancer define me. Yes, there were days when I felt weak and scared, but I never let that become my identity. I remained strong, both physically and mentally.

I powered through surgeries, chemotherapy, and radiation, never once giving up hope. I took care of my body and my mind, making sure to nourish both with healthy food, exercise, and positivity.

But it wasn't just me who got through this journey. I had an army of loved ones by my side, cheering me on every step of the way. They saw me at my worst, but they never lost faith in me. They were my rock, my source of strength when I needed it most.

And now, I stand here as a survivor. I wear my scars with pride, a reminder of the battle I fought and won. I am a living testament to the fact that breast cancer doesn't have to define you. It doesn't have to break you.

OVERCOMING BREAST CANCER

WITH A POSITIVE MINDSET AND SUPPORT

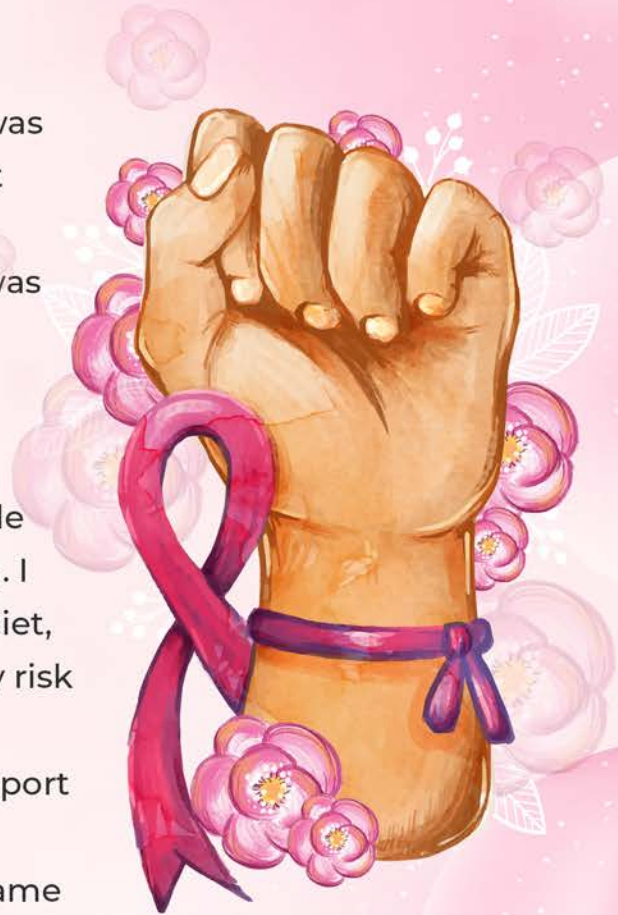

When I was diagnosed with breast cancer shortly after my husband's 50th birthday, I was overwhelmed with fear and uncertainty. But with the support of my family, friends, and healthcare team at St. Michael's Hospital, I was able to overcome the disease and emerge stronger than ever.

Throughout my journey, I learned the importance of maintaining a positive attitude and visualizing myself as healthy and strong. I also made sure to exercise daily, watch my diet, and limit alcohol consumption to reduce my risk of recurrence. But perhaps the most crucial factor in my recovery was the incredible support of my loved ones and healthcare team. My Boston friend, who had gone through the same treatment 18 months before me, was a constant source of guidance and inspiration. And the doctors, nurses, and staff at St. Michael's provided world-class care and support, ensuring that I received the treatment and follow-up care I needed to stay healthy.

Now, eight years later, I feel liberated and fearless. My experience with breast cancer has taught me the value of a positive mindset, regular exercise, and a healthy lifestyle. And I hope that by sharing my story, I can inspire other cancer patients and survivors to never give up hope and to always believe in themselves.

If you're going through breast cancer, know that you are a warrior. You are strong, you are powerful, and you are capable of getting through this. Lean on your loved ones, take care of yourself, and never give up hope. Because when you come out the other side, you'll realize just how strong you truly are.

MAA

Another word for mother is "Maa." It is perhaps one of the most beautiful sounds in the world. If someone were to ask me to describe the characteristics, qualities, or definition of a mother, there are no words in the world that could fully justify a mother's qualities.

A mom is one of the most beautiful and complete creations of God. He gave her all of his power and best qualities to create harmony in one's life.

Everything starts with her, and everything ends with her. I lost my mom 23 years ago due to Miloma, and the memory of losing her is still fresh in my mind; it seems like it happened just yesterday.

Allow me to share a few of my feelings about my mom. My mom was a symbol of strength, love, devotion, and honesty. Her unconditional love created an emotionally strong, bonded family. My mom was an incredible, confident, intelligent woman. She circled us in her arms to protect and teach us the most important lessons of selfless love and inspired us. My mother was the most beautiful person I have known. She gave me life, brought me into this world, nurtured me, groomed me, and taught me how to face difficult situations in life. I admired her calm way of handling everything in her life with independence and loyalty.

Thank you for guiding me, teaching me to stay humble, and face any difficult situation with courage. I want to tell you how much I long to hear your voice, mom, calling my name and telling me to stay happy forever ("Hamesha Khush Raho"). On this Mother's Day, I want to tell you that I owe everything to you, mom. You will always be mine in my heart. I want to tell you how much I love you and miss you forever!!!

THE HEALING POWER OF YOGA: HOW IT HELPS BREAST CANCER SURVIVORS

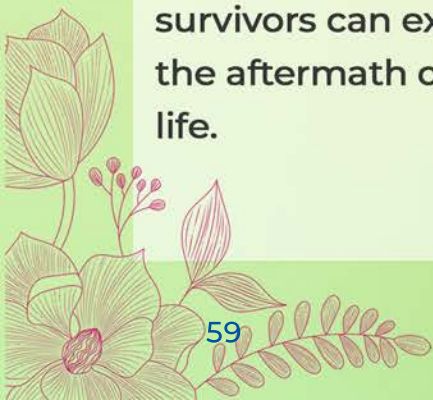

By Veena Rajpal

Yoga has been proven to have numerous benefits for breast cancer survivors. Breast cancer treatment can leave survivors with physical, emotional, and mental scars, and yoga can help alleviate some of these side effects.

Physical benefits of yoga for breast cancer survivors include improving range of motion, flexibility, and strength. Yoga poses can target areas that may have been affected by surgery, such as the chest, shoulders, and arms. This can also help reduce the risk of lymphedema, a common side effect of breast cancer treatment.

Breast cancer survivors often experience high levels of anxiety and stress, and yoga can provide a calming and relaxing outlet for these emotions. Yoga can also help improve sleep.

Overall, yoga can be a valuable tool for breast cancer survivors to improve their physical, emotional, and mental health. By practicing yoga regularly, survivors can experience a range of benefits that can help them cope with the aftermath of breast cancer treatment and live a healthier and happier life.

Your Eyes are the Window to Your Health

By Dr. Rahul Jesli

When was your last eye health examination? It's common to acquaint the purpose of an eye test to enhancing one's vision, whether it be through glasses or contact lenses. Although an important component, it is not the sole purpose.

Eye exams allow your optometrist to thoroughly assess the external and internal structures of your eyes, screening for both eye and systemic diseases.

Your eyes are an extension of your brain, allowing direct evaluation of your retina and optic nerves that carry your visual information to your brain. They also contain the delicate blood vessels carrying blood to and from your heart.

During an eye exam, your doctor will conduct a dilated retinal examination. This involves instilling special eye drops that widen the pupil so they can get a better view inside your eyes. They may also use retinal photography and OCT imaging as part of their testing to aid in their evaluation. This involves using advanced technology to take a picture of the back of your eye and evaluate the individual layers of your retina. These tests are akin to having an ultrasound or an MRI done.

The combined use of these tests allows your doctor to detect microscopic changes, which could otherwise be missed. Abnormal findings can suggest poorly controlled blood sugar, cholesterol, blood pressure or systemic inflammation/infection. Any relevant findings are then communicated to your family doctor or other relevant health professionals that manage your care.

Did you know most eye diseases have no symptoms in the early stages?

The following is a list of some common systemic diseases that can be identified and monitored through your routine eye health examination:

- Diabetes
- Hypertension
- Elevated cholesterol
- Thyroid disease
- Brain tumors
- Brain aneurysms
- Cancers of skin/blood
- Stroke
- Heart & vascular disease
- Multiple Sclerosis
- Sarcoidosis
- Shingles
- Various forms of arthritis
- Various infections

Furthermore, many medications used in managing common health conditions can have negative side effects on your eyes – some of which are irreversible and can lead to blindness. It's incredibly important to share your complete list of medications with your optometrist, so they can discuss any short-term and long-term side effects that could put your vision and eye health at risk.

Common eye diseases impacting Canadians include glaucoma, cataracts, macular degeneration and retinal detachment. Many of these conditions are associated with age, poor health, and can have a strong genetic component. The earlier these eye diseases are detected, the greater the likelihood of yielding the best visual outcome.

If you have not had your eyes tested recently, now would be the best time to contact your optometrist and schedule your next eye health examination. Even if your vision seems fine or your eyeglasses are functioning well, it's essential to have your eyes checked regularly. Remember: preventative medicine is the best kind of medicine.

GROUNDBREAKING PROGRESS IN OUR CANCER ABLATION THERAPY PROGRAM

Because of donor support, Sunnybrook is home to three highly specialized cancer ablation therapy technologies. The Gamma Knife Icon, the MR-Linac and the MRI-guided Brachytherapy Suite are changing the way we provide personalized and precise treatments.

World-first clinical trial using the Gamma Knife Icon for hard-to-treat brain tumours

Thanks to donor support of the Gamma Knife Icon, Sunnybrook's radiation oncologists are world leaders in the treatment of multiple brain metastases.

They can precisely target and destroy 30 or more tumours in a single treatment without damaging the patient's memory, cognitive function or quality of life.

Toward a goal of delivering optimal treatment to more patients, Sunnybrook's Cancer Ablation Therapy team has reimagined a world-first clinical trial involving the Gamma Knife Icon.

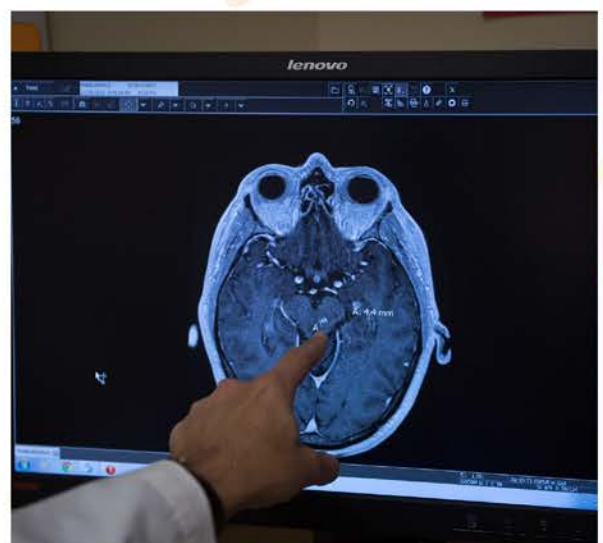

The trial will compare the outcomes of targeted radiation treatment using the Gamma Knife Icon with and without whole brain radiation on patients with five to 30 brain metastases.

Rather than randomly assigning half of the 125 study participants to each of the two treatment regimes, the study's principal investigator and director of the Cancer Ablation Therapy Program Dr. Arjun Sahgal is now encouraging the referring physicians to choose the most appropriate treatment for their patient.

The goal of the trial remains to determine which treatment option is best to maintain and even improve a patient's quality of life and thinking capacity.

Approximately 38 patients to date have been accrued to the study, which is estimated to last two years.

"We're always innovating and finding new ways to use this technology to treat even more patients when everyone else is saying no," says Dr. Sahgal.

Dr. Arjun Sahgal reviews brain images generated with the Gamma Knife Icon.
